

Affected by Suicide Support Trust

“Helping each other manage the impact suicide has on our lives”

“For us our lives will never be the same and the pain may never go away. As individuals we are all different, we all grieve in our own way and in our own time but collectively maybe we can help each other to lessen the pain and help the fog to clear.”

